Note: In order to expedite lookups on DEF charts, the first reading is one that will apply to fielders with a 3 rating. 3 is the most common fielding rating, so the gamer may find it easier to denote on their scoresheet only those fielders who are anything other than a 3.

Cross-reference the runner's STEAL number, adjusted with the catcher (T)hrow and pitcher (H)old ratings, and letter, then roll the percentile dice.

If the roll falls within the range listed in the SB row, they successfully steal.

If the roll falls within the range listed in the CS row, they are thrown out.

If the roll falls outside either range, the runner must hold and may not attempt another stolen base during this time on base.

For example, a player with a STEAL rating of "3 B" is safe stealing on a roll of 00-23, caught stealing on a roll of 24-28, and holds on a roll of 29-99. If that same player was on base with a catcher who had a T+1 he would be safe on a roll of 00-34, caught stealing on a 35-41, and holds on a 42-99.

IN-GAME INJURY CHART

40-64	IGNORE	2	5	10	15	20
65-99	IGNORE	CURRENT	3	5	8	10

IGNORE: Player is shaken up but remains in the game.

CURRENT: Player is injured for the remainder of the current game.

<any number>: Player is removed from the current game and misses this many additional games.

TRAINING ROOM CHART

	INJURY RATING
ROLL	AA	A	B	C	D	F
00-04	0	1	1	3	6	10
05-19	0	0	1	3	5	8
20-39	0	0	1	2	3	5
40-64	0	0	0	1	2	3
65-99	0	0	0	0	1	1

The number shown is the number of games the player must rest.

Position players who are resting can still be used as pinch hitters or defensive substitutes.

However, every effort should be taken to keep them out of action while resting.
